Message from The Chairman of Indonesian Banks Association

The global financial crisis is almost over and signs of recovery are shown throughout the global banking industry.

Although not entirely free from its effect, the Indonesian banking industry has proven its immunity from the crisis. The precautionary steps that were taken by the Central Bank to reduce the vulnerability of this industry have successfully contributed to the survival of our banks.

However, despite the overall survival, we must admit that the crisis still caused a few casualties in our banking industry as well as other industries which in turn hindered the optimal economic development that could have potentially been achieved by Indonesia.

Today, as the crisis is showing signs of recovery, the banking and financial services industry needs to take concrete and immediate actions to support and accelerate the imminent recovery. One key enabler for a strong recovery is enhancing the banking and financial services industry through coordination and synergy among existing stakeholders, focusing on cost efficiency, regulatory compliance and maximizing the intermediary functions to provide the required funding recovery.

As such, the APCONEX 2010 themed "Financial Service Enhancement to Accelerate Economic Recovery" is a valuable opportunity for the banking and financial services industry's stakeholders to work together and synergize in accelerating the overall economic recovery and bring Indonesia back to its path of growth. It is our hope that this event, will result to significant values that will support the above objectives.

Thank you for your participation in APCONEX 2010.

Sincerely yours,

Sigit Pramono

Message from The Steering Committee Chairman of APCONEX 2010

The Asia Pacific Conference and Exhibition (APCONEX) is an event that is held annually by the Indonesian Banks Association (PERBANAS) and we are glad that this year we are reaching the sixth APCONEX annual event. The main theme of this year is "Financial Services Enhancement to Accelerate Economic Recovery". APCONEX intends to focus on discussion and exhibition to intensify the role of the banking and financial services industry in accelerating the economic recovery from the recent global financial crisis.

In alignment with our main theme, we will have in-depth discussions with bankers, entrepreneurs and business leaders on the possibility to formulate steps and methods that will enable the banking industry to accelerate the economic recovery and reverse the effect of the recent global financial crisis. In addition, we will also hold a discussion with regulators and policy makers to increase the possibility of formulating supportive regulations that will ultimately enable us to achieve the objectives.

Keeping this moment sustained, APCONEX continue to highlight an exhibition of technological advancement in the banking industry as well as various banking products that are developed to fulfill the needs of various economic sectors in Indonesia.

Finally, as a part of the Indonesia banking industry, we will also facilitate the discussion among the stakeholders of the Sharia Banking and Micro Banking on important contributions that they could give to support the acceleration of the Indonesian economic recovery. It is our hope that we will define the most appropriate solution to Sharia Banking and Micro Banking given the unique characteristics of their respective industries compared to the conventional banking industry.

Hopefully this event will give valuable insights and innovative ideas to all of the participants.

Thank you and we look forward to your participation in APCONEX 2010.

Sincerely yours,

Sarwono Sudarto
